Titan Pride

Titans have a long record of achieving success in all areas. Excelling in academics, athletics, leadership, creativity, and much more, Titans take pride in their abilities and achievements. After graduating, Titans will leave Ainlay, beaming with Titan Pride, as successful leaders of the future. There is, without a shadow of a doubt, truth in Harry Ainlay's motto, In Omnibus Excelsior, for we do excel in all things.

You see it in the halls...

Pride of Titanic Proportions

Throughout the year, the Ainlay Titans continue to show their pride and tradition. Because Titan Pride is not found in being the best, but in doing our best, Titans always persevere with great determination to accomplish their dreams. Through this, Ainlay Titans achieve in every area to think about: academics, athletics, activities, and more. Together, along with the Titan pride, we can make Ainlay the best!

Titans Are We

There are many exciting noon hour activities that the Harry Ainlay Titans get to experience. From listening to Maren sing, to seeing Doug Weight, to just plain studying in the library, we all get to feel "a touch of class." But, it's not all fun and games. Behind the scenes, Titans work hard to bring these activities to the school. So here you go Ainlay, show off the photographs that represent Ainlay's accomplishments.

Titans we are, in and out of class...

Halloween is for...

A new year has begun and, already, Students' Union is back in action with this year's Halloween Week activities. This is a big week for Ainlay because it's the first major activity where all the students are welcome to attend. Halloween is important as it is somewhat of an icebreaker for new students in the school. Other opinions might surface from students familiar to the workings of our school. For example, "These activities at lunch are actually for those of us who are so involved that we spent all week making our costumes for the costume contest. We just couldn't waste valuable time doing homework."

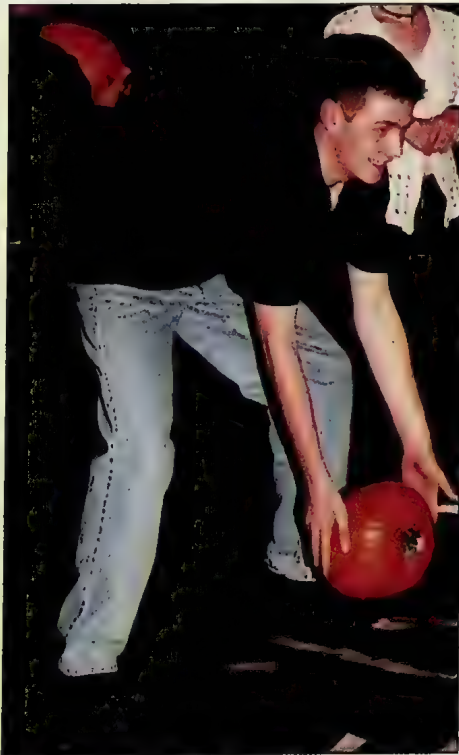

For those of us who participated, the most memorable events are the famed pumpkin carving contest and the costume contest. I just hope there are some good pictures in this layout to back me up on that comment. I'm just a lowly writer. They only let me out to eat, so I never see the finished product.

Strut your scary stuff Ainlaw!

The Essence of Friendship

Friendship is so much more than simply joking around and hugging. It is the feeling of warmth and belonging, the feeling of being surrounded in waves of comfort and acceptance just for being the person you are. Friendship can very well describe the reason why Harry Ainlay has become such a home away from home for the students. Ainlay is a refuge for those precious people who understand us and love us, despite our quirks and queerness. That is the very essence of friendship.

School and friendship go hand in hand...

Building Friendships

Whether you call them dude, buddy, homey, or pal doesn't matter. What matters is that your friends are always there for you. Sometimes they're there just to say "Hi" to in the halls, or maybe even to go out with on week-ends. Either way, it's essential for everyone to remember the great times spent building friendships at Harry Ainlay High School.

School builds knowledge and friendship.

Principal's Message

A yearbook is a personal time capsule, usually perused with great initial interest, then filed away on a shelf to be ignored for a time but finally it is consulted with increasing fondness as the years roll on.

The last full school year of the 1900's is now the stuff of personal legend. Outside of our ever changing memories, this book is the only comprehensive visual recollection that we have of this important year in our lives. It shows our victories, our joys, maybe even a little sadness but above all, it shows our uniqueness. There never has been, nor will there ever be again, an experience exactly like the times that are chronicled in these pages.

Harry Ainlay provided the focus for this year of study, achievement, fun and personal growth. Many of the things that we gained from one of our most formative experiences, our school, are illustrated here through pictures and words. Another year of Ainlay's traditions are brought to you by the work and talent of a dedicated editor, staff and advisors.

May this book help us all, students and staff alike, to look back with fondness on the way we created 1998-99. And, as we go forward in our lives, may it help us better recollect the way we were, and what and who touched our lives this year.

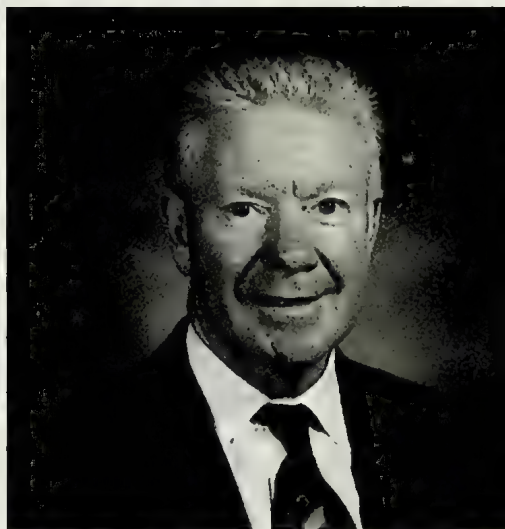

Best wishes to all,

M. B. Demaine, Principal

In Memory of Mr. Pettigrew - 1946-1999

Mr. Pettigrew passed away very suddenly in January. He taught at Harry Ainlay High School since 1980 and was well respected in the Career and Technology department for his love of teaching Automotives and Fabrication Studies. His peers and students were left with a deep emptiness with his passing. However, the leadership he provided in establishing a strong program in CTS will live on. Over his 18 years of teaching, countless students looked upon him as much as a mentor and friend as a teacher. His positive disposition, sense of humor, and dedication to the teaching profession remain an inspiration for all.

Remembering a Special Man

*Because of him
our own small world
will never be the same,
And all our hearts
are filled with love
when people speak his name.*

*But though his face may not be seen among us here today,
his love is felt
in all the hearts
he changed along the way.*

Career And Technology Studies

Career and Technology Studies focuses on the practical aspects of careers and life. Students taking a CTS course, like the students pictured here, all learn many new things that were once thought impossible.

Ainlay provides 13 of the 22 courses in CTS - the largest offering of such complimentary courses in Edmonton. They include such areas as Food Studies, Automotives, Information Processing, Fashion Studies, Communication Technology, Construction Technology, Design Studies, Fabrication Studies, Financial Management, Enterprise and Innovation, Legal Studies, Management and Marketing and Cosmetology.

Students at Ainlay can learn a new recipe or two from Food Studies, figure out the laws with Legal Studies, design a complete garment in Fashion Studies, or start drafting in Design Studies. Whichever courses are taken, CTS is there to help.

Career And Technology Studies

Career and Technology Studies week was conducted for the second consecutive year and ran from March 15 to March 19. For the first time, a photo display was put up in the Art Gallery and consisted of images from NAIT and local photo studios including Bob Bray, Brighton Photographics, Geo Photographic Art, and Stambaugh Photographics. Throughout the week, Jeff Cooley from DeVry Institute went into classes and gave students some insight into career planning. This was well received by all classes. On Monday students in Cosmetology gave demonstrations on hair curling and nail care in the rotunda. Students then went to the Communication Technology area where Brighton Photographics set up a studio and photographed all participants. On Tuesday, the University of Alberta Engineering Department set up a display of solar powered cars. At the same time, the Food Studies students hosted a bake sale and competed in a pie assembly and decorating contest. The cherry pies were exceptional! On Wednesday, many post-secondary institutions set up displays. They included Grant MacEwan Community College, Est-elle Academy of Hair Design, and Alberta Advanced Education and Career Development. Staff were also present to explain the apprenticeship program. Design Studies students set up a display of three-dimensional models and Business Education students had an Internet scavenger hunt and demonstrated new software. The city police also set up a breathalyzer station which was very interesting to students. On Thursday, Construction Technology organized a nail driving competition which again proved to be very popular. They also had a display of completed student projects. Automotives students displayed several of their own automobiles and motorcycles and a Hummer was on display. Friday ended the week with Fashion Studies hosting a fashion show in the rotunda. Recently completed garments were modeled by their creators. Ainlay students and staff again hosted a great CTS week and reached out to the community.

International Baccalaureate

The International Baccalaureate program is designed for students interested in advanced academic preparation for success in university. The I.B. program meets the curriculum demands of the Alberta High School Diploma as well as the standards of academic excellence established by international schools. Critical thinking skills are enhanced as preparation for post secondary study.

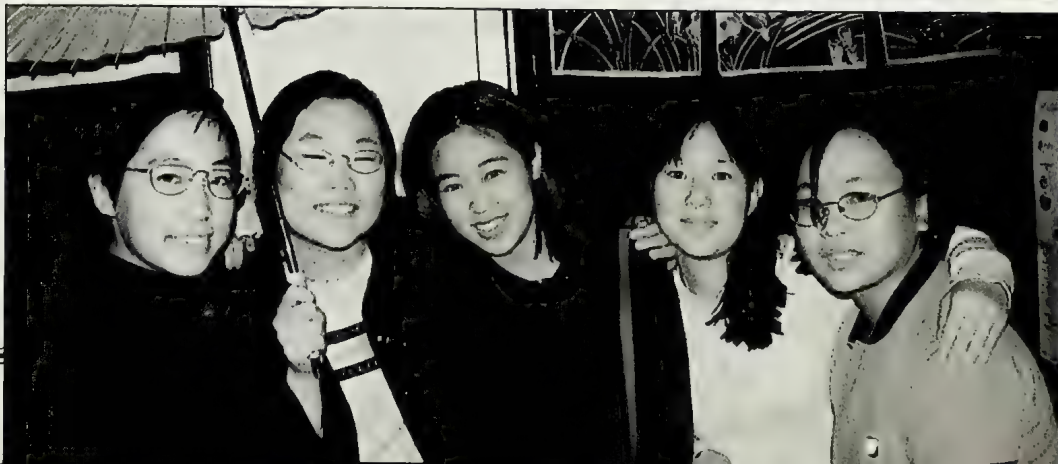

The calibre of Harry Ainlay I.B. students has drawn praise from academics around the world. A large proportion of our graduates have received major scholarships and early entrance into limited enrolment faculties.

Second Languages Week

During the week of February 22, Harry Ainlay held its 14th annual Second Languages Week. As usual, the special food prepared by the cafeteria staff quickly sold out. Students couldn't get enough sushi, pork schnitzel, empanadas or poutine. The Japanese Festival in the large gym attracted students from all over Alberta, while the pretzel eating contest and the breaking of piñatas proved to be popular events in the rotunda. Ali Hirji was the cash prize winner in the trivia contest. A big thanks to the Grade 10 students who prepared about 100 posters to advertise the events, helping to brighten the school. Second Languages Week 2000 should be better than ever.

Core Subjects - Math, Sciences

The Science department consists of Science 10 and 20 then moves on to Biology, Chemistry and Physics.

Math courses at Harry Ainlay range all the way from the 14 level for students who experience difficulty in mathematics to Math 30 I which involves a more advanced math curriculum. Students study a variety of math concepts from trigonometry to calculus, quadratic functions and polynomials.

Core subjects are essential in order for you to graduate. Each core subject is worth 5 credits towards your diploma with a certain amount of credits one must achieve in order to meet the criterium.

Social, English

English at Harry Ainlay consists of 10, 20 and 30 levels plus 13, 23 and 33 for those students who have difficulties in English. Students in English read a variety of books that range from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" to Dale Wasserman's "Man of La Mancha."

Social Studies topics range from the history of Canada to the French Revolution, the unification of Italy and Germany, World War I, II and various current events. As one Social Studies teacher put it, "It's easy to pass Social Studies but it's hard to get a good mark."

Art Program

Facts on the Art Gallery

Harry Ainlay was the first high school in Western Canada to have a recognized art gallery. The gallery gives students an opportunity to show their work. During the 1998-99 school year we had two student art shows (one each semester), a show of photography organized during the CTS Week, the I.B art 30 final art show, and a show of recent work by Irene Kossintseva (Irene is an IB Art 20 student). The art department also had student work on display at the Centre for Education, a display and demo at Southgate Mall, and our very own Sam Weber showed recent work at the Harcourt House Gallery. He is also showing, and selling, pottery at the Mars & Venus Gallery. So make sure ya'll take a trip down to see the work of these artists.

Arts . . .

A Journey into a new experience!!

Each year art students have an opportunity to go on a variety of art field trips as enrichment to the art program. This year the I.B Art 30 class went to the Devonian Japanese Garden as a part of their history studies. The Art 20 and 30 students went to the open house at The Alberta College of Art and Design in Calgary. In March the Art 10, 20, and 30 students flew to Victoria, B.C. to see the Da Vinci Art Show and tour the city. In the spring the I.B Art 20 and the Art 30 classes will participate in a gallery walk.

Band Tour '99 California!

W Well, I guess by now it has occurred to all those people who didn't go on the band trip, California was awesome . . . except for the sunburns. As tradition, the band has been in numerous festivals and competitions and, as always, they have more than made Ainlay proud. In California, all the groups that attended (Concert band, Symphonic band, Jazz band, Jazz choir, and the Girls Choir) not only proved that they were worthy of this trip, but thanks to them, Harry Ainlay now has a reputation abroad. We went to Disneyland, swam, shopped, ate, and lounged under the sun. Oh yeah, we also went to the Heritage Festival and received awards for every group we entered. For those of you who have never entered room 107, you have no idea what you're missing. The music students have their own little world in there. Some people just never seem to leave (not to mention any names, Shauna). Often, when you walk into the room, you will hear Jamie on the piano, numerous drummers (and people yelling at certain "drummers"), and a whole bunch of other instruments playing to create a gigantic jamming session (sometimes about little buses and staplers).

Clubs

Computer Club

The computer club is a group of students who spend their Thursday lunch hours working on computers. Our club president ran several instructional hands-on classes in HTML programming for the other members who had little or no experience in HTML. We took apart (and put back together) an old computer to see what components were involved in making a computer work. We spent time searching the internet for ideas on how to improve our school web page, as some of our members were also involved with the Web Page club. With the ever advancing field of computing, there was always something new to look into.

Web Page Team

The Harry Ainlay Web Design team functions to display information about the school via the internet. Not only is the team vital in informing students daily through the on-line Titan News about news in the school but also informing parents and future students about the benefits of Harry Ainlay.

The team consists of five students led by Mr. Fedorchuk/Mr. Lawlor. These students include: Travis Holownia, Matthew Teichrob, Derek Yip, Kyle Gravells, Tyler Hawkins, and Dicky Sum. During the course of the past year, these students have performed daily updates and also have been working on a major site facelift.

Club T.E.A.M.

Club T.E.A.M.? Environment Club? What in the world do the two have in common? Actually, these two clubs are the exact same! This year, the environment club changed its name to Club T.E.A.M. (The Earth and Me) though our goals of keeping the environment clean have remained the same. A very successful bake sale and letters of concern to political figures are only a few of the projects that our members have been successful in. Lastly, Club T.E.A.M. made donations to various organizations such as Greenpeace, the World Wildlife Fund, and Nature Conservancy. A big "Thank You" to all Club T.E.A.M. members and a special thanks to Mr. Hignell who dedicated his time and effort to run the recycling program in the school.

Amnesty International

Our goal is to promote awareness of human rights issues. This year, we focused on letter writing campaigns and networking with the community. Our first campaign to "Make a Change" raised awareness of our club. In October, Amnesty Club, along with students studying Spanish, organized a fund raising appeal for Central America as a result of Hurricane Mitch. We astounded the Red Cross with $2 800 collected in 40 minutes! Some of us had the opportunity to attend the International Human Rights Conference hosted in Edmonton. The Youth Conference delegates heard Bishop Desmond Tutu, one of many prominent rights advocates. 1998 marked the 50th anniversary of the Canadian written Universal Declaration of Human Rights and we celebrated with a letter writing session. We also conducted letter writing sessions in Social Studies 10 classes. A petition circulated by a member, concerning the Taliban in Afghanistan, was responded by the United Nations High Commission on Human Rights.

We are reminded daily of the violations of fundamental human rights in the world. There is much work to do. Amnesty International Club offers an opportunity for social action.

Polyphony

The Polyphony Project is an effort to discover and celebrate the breadth of linguistic diversity in our school. The task is to determine the various languages spoken, read and written by our students.

Up to this point in time we have discovered 60 languages at the school. We are now in the process of translating a prose poem, "My Heart Soars," by Chief Dan George, a First Nations writer, into various languages. A booklet, containing multiple translations of the poem, as well as background information about the various language groups, will be published at the school. Written interviews with the student translators will also be included in the publication.

My Heart Soars
by Chief Dan George
For thousands of years
I have spoken the language of the land
and listened to its many voices...

The Muse

Every week, a group of inspired and talented poets gather to discuss and produce fine literature. The Muse also holds poetry contests, in which Ainlay students participate, throughout the year. Selected works are displayed in the Titanic newspaper. Not only do they receive prizes, they also receive pride and recognition from their fellow Titans. In the process, they encourage the beauty of poetry in Ainlay.

Origami

Room 331- the place where one spends an hour every Tuesday during the lunch hour to fold pieces of paper into various objects - heh heh, without using scissors. Looking past several accidentally ripped projects and numerous paper cuts, we were able to complete many things. Our greatest accomplishment this year was the rose- which painstakingly took two hours to complete.

Back row: Ms. Ito-Fedrau, Angela Cheung, Kim Le, Sandy Sohi, Samantha Behm

Anime & Manga

AM.C. as it is affectionately called by some members is set on making sure everyone falls in love with the usual oversized eyes and mouths. Every Thursday at lunch we'd meet in Mr. Ito's room and plug in the choice show for that week. There's been a good deal of Slayers, Tenchi Muyo, Macross and much, much more that's been viewed. We've watched the classics, modern anime, fantasy, sci-fi, romance, horror, and still managed to keep at least 30 people coming each week. There have also been other things to do in the club. A character identity contest won several people some prizes and the drawing contest produced some brilliant works of art. Club members can also test their Japanese skills... or lack of Japanese skills and translate anime or manga. So don't call us freaks because we like to watch cartoons. We're simply in touch with our inner Japanese children.

Mountain Biking

The Mountain Biking Club, since its inception three years ago, has stuck to its core and maintained its cultish rituals of The Ride. The Ride consists of getting groups together who share the love of mountain biking and going out and becoming one with the trees, the earth, and Edmonton's river valley. Of late, we have performed demos to publicize new forms of biking such as Trials, Rock Hopping and of course the newly revived BMX, and to spread the word of THE RIDE.

Scuba Club

What better way to learn how to dive for buried treasure than in Ainlay's Scuba Club? Though the club experienced some upheaval with Mr. Lawlor leaving midseason, the club still continued its quest to help novice divers obtain their Scuba licence. Once again employing bottle-drives and the selling of meat products to raise funds, the members were able to participate in the "Discover Scuba" program offered by Ocean Sports. Even though they travelled to Jasper during the May long weekend, the club is still aiming for a dive adventure down South... Mexico's always nice!

Ping Pong

The 1998-1999 school year saw the debut and Grand Opening of Ainlay's Ping Pong Club had been mentioned in our planners, the newsletters, and all the Junior High propaganda for ages, it had not actually been a real club before. However, this particular year, a group of determined students set about to change that.

It all began with extensive fundraising and the Ping Pong Club managed to amass four tables, new paddles and a large supply of balls. Then came the promotional hype propaganda: The posters, the announcements, the corny slogans. But it all paid off, and our Grand Opening attracted more than forty people. Although such Ping Pong enthusiasm has since stopped, the club still boasts a daily attendance of at least 15 students, making it one of the most popular sports in Ainlay.

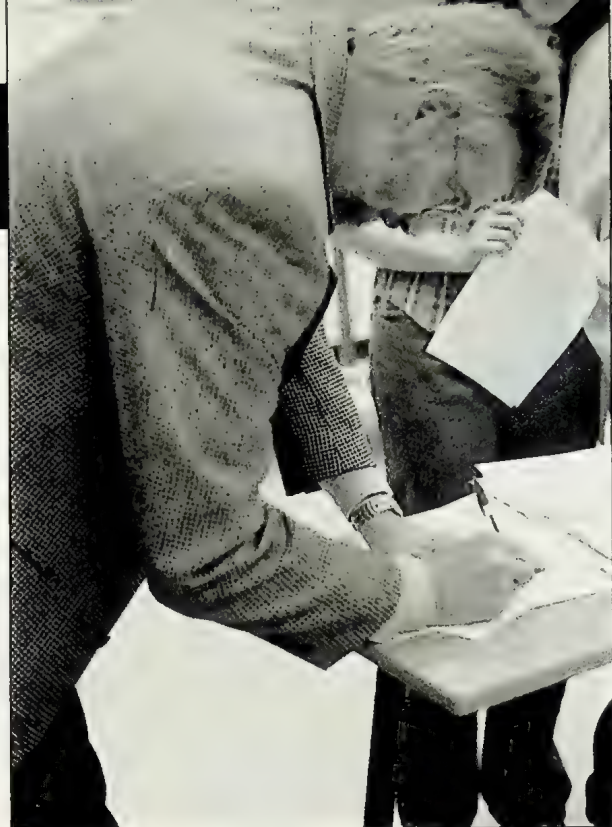

The Ping Pong Club would like to thank its fundraising committee consisting of Kenman Gan, Weiyang Liu, Hector Ho, Eugene Chan, Rui Huang, Danny Duong, and Michael Cheung for their hard work and dedication, and Mr. Hignell for helping us with the pop cans. We would like to thank Mr. Delcioppo for his effort and support, for lending us his room, for putting up with the sandwich crumbs, the spilled milk and the orange peels, as well as for standing up to Administration on our behalf. Thanks for everything!

Titanic

Yet another successful year of keeping the Titanic newspaper afloat! Harry Ainlay's student newspaper has had a busy year with the publication of five issues, featuring school activities, club updates, controversial topics, movie reviews, sports teams and tournaments. The Titanic covered everything from top pick-up lines for Valentine's Day to the success of the Titan Volleyball Tournament to the poetry and prose of the Muse's literary contests and the highlights of The Crucible production by Harry Ainlay's Drama department. In addition to all this were the regular comic and horoscopes features, and the ever-popular TLQ's (Three Lines for a Quarter). It has certainly been a splash keeping the Titanic alive, and with the help of countless volunteers, writers, photographers, artists, and layout workers, the Titanic will be sailing for a long time...

P.A.L.S...

Peer Ambassador Leadership Students (PALS) is a club that meets twice a week to give students a chance to experience other cultures. Weekly activities such as a dragon making contest for Chinese New Year, a Haunted House for Halloween, an international games day, and a potluck of green food for St. Patrick's Day are just some of the examples of what PALS has done this year. It's a great club for meeting new people, from Canada or other countries as well as learning about customs and traditions that exist throughout the world.

Debate Club

Two years ago, one team went to regionals, last year ago, two teams made it to regionals, and two made provincials. The Ainlay Debate team has continued its goal of activity in the school and competitiveness outside the school in tournaments. This year showed with the largest ever membership with active competing members totalling in 5 team across all three grades. These numbers and achievements are the accumulation of the steady build up of the club.

Go Club

This year was the year of the Harry Ainlay Go Club. No, Go has nothing to do with travel unless it is travelling back in time to play a game used to train Chinese generals more than 2000 years ago. Simple rules, but an infinite number of strategies, two armies meet on the field of battle in a fight that is unique for every game!

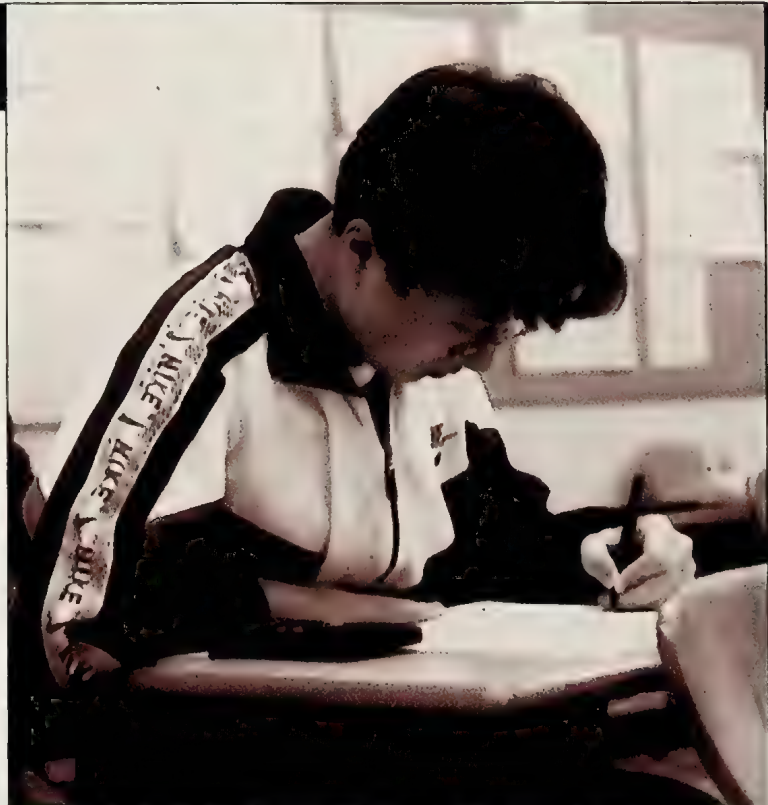

This board game, played with black and white stones, is also unusual since handicaps make it possible to create a fair game for a beginning player while remaining challenging for his opponent. The Go Club teacher is Mrs. Pombert.

Math Club

While it may be difficult for some to believe, there are many students in this school who enjoy mathematics and find it an intriguing area to learn and study. Members of the Math Club have different reasons for why they choose to join, but a common link between each and every member is definitely an interest in math. Some students are looking for a challenge while others are looking to improve their problem-solving techniques. Then there are just those super math geniuses who make you wonder how on earth they know so much.

Nonetheless, these students have contributed towards a very successful year in Math Club. Members have competed in a great variety of math contests and examinations, including both provincial and national competitions, throughout the year. Some of these include the Canadian MathLeagues Contest, the Alberta High School Math Competition, the American High School Math Examination and the Canadian Math Competition. Excellent results have been obtained from all the three grade levels, as students have placed quite high in every competition. We would like to thank Mr. Lindenberg for being a valuable advisor, contributing a significant amount of his own time for the Math Club.

Stockmarket Club

There are those who are making millions by investing thousands. Through this game, students learn how the TSE works by investing in an imaginary amount of cash into stocks of their choice. In the course of this game, the students learn how to use options such as selling short and buying on the margin. With the help of the teacher advisor, Ms. Jewel, each competitor or team has successfully completed at least ten trades, spending at least 50,000 imaginary dollars. Students at Harry Ainlay were competing in the Western region of the game as well as the nationals for the Wilfrid Laurier University Scholarship and cash awards regionally. The competition was tough this year. With the boom and bust faced by the Canadian economy in the month of the competition, students experienced stock crashes but learned how to pull themselves up. Hopefully, this game has taught them to invest wisely so that they can turn thousands of real dollars into millions one day.

Pottery

Pottery... Every year there is something out of the ordinary going on in that club. There is no such thing as insanity in this club -- for everyone is diseased of that. Madness also goes along with mud (somewhat). And yes, that is what we are -- people who like to play with mud and dirt and fire.

Dead Artists Society

Dead Artists Society (D.A.S.) is a club which allows for the publication of comics by Harry Ainlay students. The D.A.M.N. magazine (Dead Artists Monthly News magazine, though not monthly, nor containing news) will hold about ten comics of varying topic and style. The styles will range anything from anime to marvel. Though there are many artists in DAS, it also contains many gifted story writers, editors, layout planners, and printers. It is our hope to publish comics which reflect the ideas of people our age, and to show how well a student run society can operate.

Science Olympics

While the whole world woke up to Saturday morning cartoons and Kellogg's Raisin Bran, preparing for the two days of rest ahead, two teams of six Titans each headed out to the Shaw Conference Center on February 27, for some serious Science Action. The past several weeks had seen these dedicated students working hard to build a catapult and a sail car, taking breaks only to eat Weiyang's food, drink Weiyang's pop, and make song requests on FM105 at midnight.

The day of judgement finally arrived and both of Ainlay's teams worked hard, providing tough competition for all the other schools. When the dust had settled and the sun hit the horizon, Ainlay was left standing, the team consisting of Kenman Gan, Sarah Lai, Weiyang Liu, Daniel Yeung, Carl Lam and Xiao-Bo Li (alternate) winning a silver medal in the sail car event.

Ainlay's Team Two would like to thank Chad Thomes, Pat Checkel, Matt Abbott, and Scott Royd for their hard work in welding our catapult together, as well as Gemma Mio, for her advice and support. The Science Olympics' Teams would also like to thank our coach Ms. Fischer, for her time, effort, support and the cheeseburgers. Thanks for everything!

Titan Tradition Yearbook

Let's see, what can I write about (that's relatively interesting) about yearbook? There's got to be something to talk about, considering we spend almost every day, day in and day out, for months working on it... Hmm... Oh yes, that's it!! This year, like every year, everyone on the yearbook committee pitched in to take the time to do a little extra for their school. Actually, a LOT extra. Every meeting was crammed with grueling, painstaking, sweatshop-like, hard work on every aspect of the yearbook: taking pictures, developing pictures, enlarging pictures, designing a layout, etcetera. Moreover, every month was filled with deadlines and deadlines and . . . did I mention, more deadlines!?! And then there was me, little newbie editor who didn't know the first thing about being an editor. Nevertheless, we all helped each other out to overcome these obstacles and managed to shell out what you see before you, a fantidly-astic yearbook!

On Thursday, November 19, a group of five students attended a Media Skills Seminar hosted by The Edmonton Journal at the Westin Hotel. This annual event is designed to give students from across the province a chance to talk to people who make a living in the journalism business. About 200 students were in attendance and most were involved in school yearbook and newspaper production. Lisa Mathews, Derek Yip, Nigel Lavers, Monika Jaworska, Erica Olbey, and Mr. Povaschuk attended the event. Topics included ethics in journalism, news writing basics, photojournalism, interviewing techniques, and design and layout. A good time was had by all in attendance and many of the skills and knowledge gained at the sessions are reflected in the pages of our own Titan Tradition yearbook.

This year was a little different though. It was much more relaxing than usual. We had discovered the art of digital scanning, my favorite. Instead of taking days and hours developing and enlarging pictures, we took little less than minutes scanning in the negatives . It's great for people who are too busy (or lazy) to handle the chemicals and negatives and test prints used in enlarging pictures.

Anyway, back to the main topic. What else to write about? Oh yes, I'd like to thank all the people who contributed to the production of this year's yearbook. Firstly, an extremely big thank you to Mr. Povaschuk and Ms. Jewell for taking their time and effort to crunch all us simple people into efficient yearbook-making machines. Thanks to Ms. Jewell's class for helping with the tedious, but extremely important work of typing in all the grad quotes. And last, but not least, a final thanks to all our Titans, without whom such a great yearbook could not have been made!

Football, a Titan Tradition

Senior Football Report

The 1998 Senior Football season started with promise as we performed well in the preseason M.E. Lazerte Jamboree. Unfortunately, that preseason success did not carry over to the regular season. We finished with a 2 - 6 record and out of the playoffs.

Despite our lack of team success, we had some terrific individual performances. Anthony Oliver led the team in rushing (1149 yards), touchdowns (10) and tackles (66). Reagan Kroll led the city in passing yard age and Justin McInnes led the city in receptions and receiving yards. Justin was selected as our team's most valuable player. Anthony Oliver and Kasali Akili were runners-up for M.V.P. Other award winners included Matt Rawluk for Most Valuable Lineman, Cory Savoy for Most Contribution - Least Recognition, and Mike Ciona for Most Inspirational Player.

One of our season's highlights was an exhibition game at McMahon Stadium in Calgary against Foothills Composite from Dokotoks, Alberta.

Thank you to our graduating players for your contribution to Titan Football. "Once a Titan, always a Titan."

Track & field is one of the best metaphors of life: you only get out of it what you put into it. Over the past 3 years, the track team has grown to almost 50 athletes with over 60% qualifying for city finals this year. Along the way some have practised in the sun, wind, rain, and even hail. These are the athletes who have begun to learn the traits of a successful person.

Whereas ability can be natural; hardwork, determination, commitment and the desire to be the best that you be can be learned. I would like to thank the members of the track and field team for some wonderful memories and to wish all of the 1999 graduates the best of luck in wherever the path of life takes you. I hope to see everyone out again next year for another successful track season and wish everyone the best of luck in their studies.

League games were played on Tuesdays from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m., in addition Ainlay teams practiced every Thursday at the Derrick Golf & Winter Club from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. After league curling was completed Ainlay teams were entered into the Edmonton Zone Curling Play-downs which began in mid-February. The senior boys team with Mike Kotyk skip, Colin Topolnitsky third, Jeff Bissonnette second, and Mark Pannekoek lead, won silver metals in the senior boys division. # Golf

Harry Ainlay Men's Golf Team 1998-99
Two returning players, Amit Koshal (12) and Scott Charlesworth (11), joined two new members, Kelley Hilton (11) and Lindsey Winch (12) to form the '98-99 Men's Golf Team. The four players competed in the Edmonton Zone Golf Tournament on September 14, at the Links Golf Course in Spruce Grove. As defending city champions, the team had high hopes of repeating their trophy win. Led by Amit Koshal, who won the silver medal, the teams finished in sixth spot, only six shots behind Ross Sheppard, so were unable to travel as a team to provincials. Amit actually had to survive a three hole play off with three other golfers to capture 2nd place with a birdie on the third extra hole. Due to heavy IB commitments, Amit declined to attend the provincial tournament in Camrose.

Badminton

The Badminton club again had a great season in the year '99. Out of over 100 students who tried out for the team, 25 were selected in February. The team won silver at the city championships in April. At the provincial championships held in Lethbridge on May 7 & 8, the Jr. Mixed Doubles team (Keith Lee & Lisa Shen) won silver, the Sr. Mixed Doubles team (Jun Jun Yamsuan & Cindy Lau) won bronze, and Peggy Sah won silver in the 2nd category of the Sr. Women's Singles.

TOT .. Catch the Action

Harry Ainlay hosted the 19th annual Titan Volleyball Tournament which ran from Thursday, October 8 to Saturday, October 11. At the opening ceremonies, spectators were entertained with an amazing light and sound show. This of course was followed by three days of great action in which 16 teams competed. This resulted from the leadership and dedication of the organizing committee, the helpfulness and commitment of numerous volunteers and the guidance and patience of staff advisors. Our very own Senior Men's team defeated the North Peace Oscars to win the gold medal, while the Senior Women finished as the consolation champions. Kelly Barrett, Chris Johnson, and Brad Wood were named tournament all-stars, and Mike Myroniuk was selected as the Tournament MVP. Ainlay prowess shows once again!

26th Annual Tri-Provincial

Harry Ainlay has now hosted the 26th annual Tri-Provincial Basketball tournament. The senior men's team won gold defeating Springbank from Calgary with a score of 85-68. The senior women's team defeated Salmon Arm from B.C. with a score of 65-61 to also capture the gold medal.

Athletes chosen as allstars were Larissa Cundy and Mike Melnychuk. Natalie Lutzak was selected as the honorable mention athlete. The most valuable player selections in the tournament were Kelly Barrett and Ben Ebinu. A special congratulations goes out to all athletes and coaches for a very successful weekend.

Encounters With Canada

Encounters with Canada allows Canadian students from the ages of 15 to 17 to experience interesting sessions such as Science and Technology, Sports and Fitness, Law, Canada and the World, Arts and Culture, Journalism and Communications, Business and Entrepreneurship, Canadian Experience, and The R.C.M.P. Forum.

Isaac Murdock recalls...

Encounters with Canada is a wonderful program! I don't think anyone who participated can say they didn't have a blast. All the friends and memories from this experience will be with us for a long time. For many, it was the first visit to the capitol of our nation and I think we all learned to appreciate our country more and to take pride in ourselves as Canadians. I can't remember the last time I had so much fun and I hope anyone who has the opportunity to go will take advantage of it--it is well worth it!

Open House

This was the night for future Titans and their families to see Harry Ainlay at its best. Throughout the night, various activities took place including lively music provided by the band, while Ainlay cheerleaders had everybody shouting to their dance moves and cheers in the gym. Displays of subjects were present in classrooms, while diverse clubs such as The Go Club and The P.A.L.S. Club were stationed along the hallways. Baked goodies such as cheesecake, brownies and cinnamon rolls were provided by the Foods Room. All in all, a very successful night!

Battle of the Bands

— Harry Ainlay's 7th Annual Battle of the Bands —

Seven bands competed for first place, as well as two special guests. Bottle Lizard, Dissidence, Headcheese for the Masses, Quickus Evictus, Lilly Dippers, Melinda Broomhall, and A Priori all coveted the first place prize of $100. Quickus Evictus came out on top, winning first place. Special guests Dive, as well as last year's winner Maren, also treated the audience to some awesome music.

Culture Fest

Beauty in Diversity

Ainlay's rotunda came to life once again, as we celebrated Beauty in Diversity at CultureFest '99!! Lively music, incredible performances, unique foods, intriguing displays, and daring activities filled every lunch hour during the week of March 8th - 11th. African, Celtic, East Indian, Latin American, Spanish, and Ukrainian dancers amazed students and staff, with their energy and talent. Likewise, the captivating Wajjo African drummers, the inspiring songwriter and singer Maja, and the exciting Kung Fu demonstration, all enhanced the spirited atmosphere of the celebration.

Whiffs of traditional foods and spices tantalized taste buds throughout the school. From Perogies to Padd Thai, everyday there was something new to savor. Also, a variety of displays and flags decorated the school, creating a festive mood. At the same time, the hilarious Spice Eating contest sparked attention, while the challenging Cultural Jeopardy intrigued and perplexed our rotunda contestants. To touch off the excitement of the week, Greenfield elementary school students were invited to Ainlay, to take part in multicultural celebration activities, and to enjoy various performances in the theater.

Not only were Titans able to share their cultures, learn about those of others, and have a blast...they were also able to help a less fortunate child: a five year-old from Zambia named Brey is able to receive sponsorship for a whole year. Once again, the generosity and the compassion of the Titan spirit, shines through. A great "thank you" goes out to all the volunteers, performers, community groups, and donators, who truly made CultureFest '99, a success!!!

Skills Canada Club

The Skills Canada Club had another very exciting and interesting year. On Thursday, May 6, 16 students from Harry Ainlay hopped on a bus and headed south to Calgary to compete in the annual provincial competitions.

The areas in which students participated included baking, cabinet making, desktop publishing, fashion studies, braiding, hairdressing, job interview, mechanical CADD, and welding. Teachers who attended the competitions and assisted on the bus down and back included Ms. Jewell, Mr. McNair, Ms. Hannan, and Ms. Sorensen.

Everyone had a great time and had an opportunity to compete and socialize with other students throughout the province. One of Mr. Seminuk's students, Jayme Symonds, won a Bronze medal in the cabinet making competition. Congratulations Jayme.

Students' Union

President's Message

This year we have had some great times! In the 1998-1999 school year, we emphasized "Getting Connected." Our entire school was brought together from the first week, beginning with an awesome outdoor assembly and barbeque. Throughout the year we got connected by welcoming students and clubs, having Halloween activities, random acts of kindness, and the first annual "Touch of Class." We aimed to connect our community as well in activities such as the Junior High Leadership Conference, the Food Bank challenge and a Walk Around the World.

Ainlay student activities are so strong because you have taken the opportunity to make your voice heard through General Council and Students' Union elections. I thank and congratulate all of the Ainlay students for making this year at Ainlay a great success.

Grad Fashion Show

The Grad Fashion Gala on March 24, 1999 was another graduate extravaganza. With thirty student models, two celebrities, and three teachers in three different sets, it was a fast-paced evening.

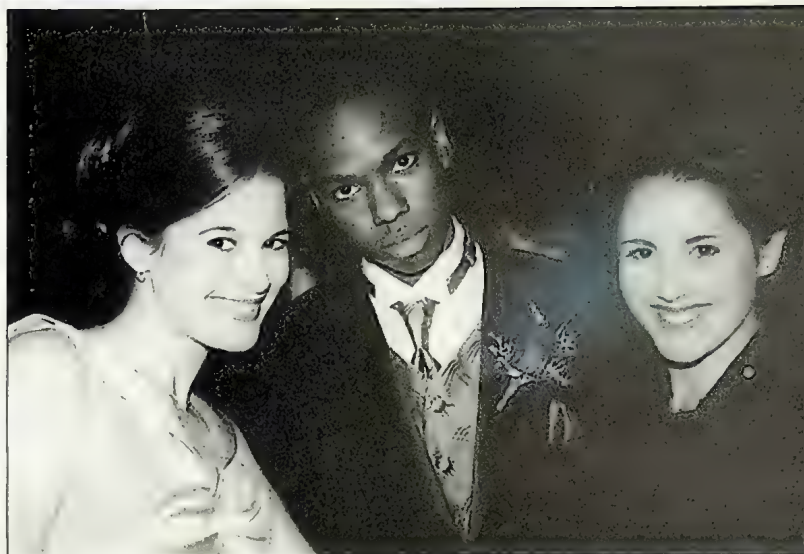

This year we teamed up with Southgate Centre, a large part of our success in raising funds for graduation. Along with Shaye Ganom of ITV Morning News as our awesome master of ceremonies and Chris Hardy and Rio Wells of the Edmonton Eskimos, a number one choice for celebrity models was made.

Our executive, Kara Schwindt - chairperson, Nicole Bourassa - fashion director, Thillinie Rajapakse - spring tea director, Shaunik Katyal - raffle director, and Ms. Sorensen - staff advisor, did a fantastic job of putting it all together for a top notch performance.

Many volunteers including staff, students and parents helped to make the evening a success. Thanks to everyone - the sponsors Tina Mac of Mac Models and last but not least, Southgate Centre.

President's Address

As all the world prepares to celebrate the ending of this millennium and the beginning of the next, we, the graduating class of 1999, are brought together tonight to celebrate what is both an ending and a beginning for all of us. This is the day that we finally graduate and have all wished for.

When we were much younger, our elders often asked us what we wanted to do when we grew up. Our responses were ambitious, whimsical and lighthearted: a ballerina, a professional wrestler, an astronaut, the Prime Minister. Grown ups, it seemed, were constantly looking forward to the future and as we grew older we too developed this sense of impatience. We were always anxious to finish, always eager to grow up. We jealously looked up to the bigger children, the older ones that had the freedom to do the things that we could not. The freedom to ride their bicycles to school rather than taking the yellow bus. The freedom to play in the big park at recess. The freedom to drive. And then the ultimate freedom, the one that would come with graduation. We impatiently counted down the years remaining until the day that school would finally be over, each passing year bringing us one step closer to that day.

They say be careful what you wish for, because you might just get it. Looking around tonight, each of us dressed in a cap and gown, it is obvious that we have all achieved our wish. Realize, though, that it is not this single moment when we cross the stage that matters. It is the years that we have spent together, the anticipation of this night, and the memories that we have made. These are the lessons that we have learned in time.

As we begin a new chapter in our lives, and a new millennium, these lessons will be there for us to draw upon. I hope that we will never forget the whimsical ambitions of our childhood, nor the plans and goals for our futures that we are making today. To all of my classmates, I wish you success and happiness in your future endeavors.

Jasmine Baggaley

Valedictorian's Speech

Good evening, fellow graduands, teachers, parents, honoured guests. To everything there is a season, and tonight is the time for us to celebrate the milestone we have all reached together. Although many of us may not know each other, and may never even have seen one another, we all have this in common: alongside our friends, we have spent three years at Harry Ainlay, and are the graduating class of 1999.

Throughout the last three years, we have had the opportunity to learn from a number of dedicated teachers. Many of us have also participated in a multitude of extracurricular activities, and all of us have spent time developing friendships. It is the good times we will carry with us into the future, and tonight is a celebration of those times, and of what is to come.

We are all standing on the threshold of another phase of our lives: some of us are about to enter the workforce, others are about to enter university or college to prepare for their careers, still others are biding their time before plunging into their future.

Wherever our future leads us, let us remain true to ourselves, and never to stop looking for what is needed to bring us true fulfillment. Life is full of excitement, danger, and opportunity, but not everything that looks promising will bring lasting joy; in fact, much of what looks appealing is extremely dangerous. Let us make our choices based on principles, rather than ill-considered desires, always striving for truth and meaning, and avoiding the cynicism and hardheartedness that is all too common in our times.

Also let us consider others when making choices, so that we may show them acceptance and respect. The potential effect of rejection and harassment is disastrous, as shown in the recent shootings in Littleton and Taber. As we pursue the desires of our hearts, let us remember to encourage others in theirs, and raise their hopes, rather than discouraging them, so that we may all find the joy we long for.

Let us leave behind our high school years, and enter our future with hope, as well as an appreciation of the good things and supportive friends we leave behind, and a readiness to embrace those still to come. Let us strive toward a future that will dwarf all we have yet known, not because we earn millions of dollars, but because we have found what we need to bring fullness to our lives.

Jan Thomson

This year Ms. Sommerville was the guest speaker for the evening. Having retired from Harry Ainlay in the previous year, she was quickly able to relate to the needs of the school's graduating class. She told the graduates not to worry if they did not have a clear direction of where their future would take them. She emphasized that as time evolved they would naturally make the right decisions. She related experiences of her son to illustrate her point.

Class Historians - 1998 - 1999

Sean: [in dark] Are you ready, I said Ainlay are you ready!

Joel: [lights up] Ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, children of all ages, Harry Ainlay High, proudly brings to you, the only people smooth enough to do this... "The ladies man" Joel MacDonald, "The big frobowski" Ian Ferguson, and "Big pappa pump" Sean Piper. Your 1999 Class Historians!

Ian: Now. If you're not down with the Titans we've got 2 words for ya...Ainlay rules!

Sean: It was nearly three years ago when we first got into grade 10.

[Lights out slide of sign]

Joel: It was kind of confusing going around a school this big, but fortunately we were supplied with an easy to follow map [slide of huge map]

Ian: Us guys had to change our style, I mean neato sweats and eatin' paste wasn't gonna get us the ladies anymore [slide of 3 in sweats and eating paste surrounded by girls]

Sean: At first we thought the teachers were a little strange [slide of Mr. Millions eyebrow thing]

Joel: But as we got to know them a little better we realized they were really strange [slides of various teachers in various poses]

Ian: We were introduced to the 3 constants at Ainlay: the school store will continue to jack its prices through the roof.

Joel: School gets out early on Thursdays.

Sean: Attendance reports come home on Thursdays

Ian: We won men's volleyball and cheerleading provincials that year.

Joel: But after 10 months we made it, we were grade 11's [Stage lights up]

Sean: In grade 11, a lot of us started to get out drivers licences

Joel: Some of us even got our own cars.

Ian: This was a major thing, cause at lunch we were no longer in the rotunda or at Southgate.

Joel: We could go anywhere we wanted.

Sean: And when that novelty wore off we started having contests.

Ian: It was no longer a matter of where, but how far we could go.

Sean: And how many people you could take with you.

Joel: You could sittin' in period 5 on Thursday and say "Man could I go for a triple cheeseburger from Pete's drive-in."

Sean: Yeah man.

Ian: But Pete's is in Calgary

Sean: Hello today is Thursday we have an extra 11 minutes.

Ian: Oh, well in that case...

Sean: Grade 11 saw Jerry Springer rise to the top of the talk shows, and I for one, was appalled.

Joel & Ian: Unbelievable!

Sean: How can you take all the deviants from American society and...

Joel: You forgot freaks...

Ian: And perverts, don't forget perverts...

Sean: You take all the deviants, freaks, and perverts; put them on a show and have them fight for an hour.

Joel & Ian: Just sickening!

Sean: Why did this show not debut at #1, what took it so long to get to the top?

[Joel, Ian, & Sean fssht thing]

Joel: That year had what has been called the greatest love story of all time.

Sean: The Wedding Singer?

Ian: Boogie Nights?

Joel: Titanic, Morons!

Sean: I can't believe anyone would see that.

Ian: Gee does the ship sink?

Joel: But guys, it's a love story.

[Sean & Ian dumbfounded]

Joel: We hosted volleyball provincials.

Sean: And though both teams qualified, unfortunately, neither won.

Ian: But basketball would be a different story as our senior men finished first in the province and were ranked 8th in the country.

Joel: We lost a lot of people we shouldn't have that year.

Sean: Mother Theresa and Princess Diana,

Joel: Chris Farley and Phil Hartman,

Ian: And perhaps most tragic of all, Ginger left the Spice Girls.

Joel: Why?

Sean: She had such enormous...potential.

Joel: That was supposed to be my line

[Pulls script from back pocket]

Sean: Don't look at me Ian wrote the script.

Ian: Listen, you guys have to tell me what you want, what you really want

Sean: Oh, I'll tell you what I want what I really, really want.

Joel: I wanna, ha.

Ian: I wanna, ha.

Sean: I wanna, ha.

All: I wanna, ha, I wanna really, really, really wanna zigzag ahh.

Ian: Something's not right here (tie thing) much better.

Joel: Man, grade 12 went by so fast it's hard to believe it's over.

Sean: Remember that pep rally at the start of the year.

Joel: Yeah, those M.C.s were horrible.

Ian: They were so...

Sean: Ainlay had 2 dances this year, a new record.

Joel: And since 10 people showed up they also set attendance records.

Ian: Hey guys, are you goin' to the dance.

Joel: Maybe we'll see you there. [Thumbs down thing]

Sean: The Hallowe'en costume contest was great.

Joel: Exept for those idiots who dressed up as the Village People, that were they thinking?

Ian & Sean: Yeah [sarcastic laugh]

Sean: We got to try our democratic skills at grad meetings.

Ian: I move that we get the 6x9 pictures.

Joel: I move that he be denied the right to motion.

Ian: Well I move that we go outside and finish this.

Sean: Easy, don't fight over something so trivial.

Joel: I move that he never be allowed to speak again.

Ian: What did you guys vote for grad song?

Joel: "It's not unusual" by Tom Jones

Sean: Really, me too.

[Song starts playing, all dance, Ian sings]

Sean: It was interesting to watch the teachers enforce the no smoking policy.

Joel: [runs in] Sir we have a problem at exit 11.

Ian: Exit 11, what is it?

Joel: It's the doors by the confederation pool, but that's not important right now...There are kids smoking out there.

Ian: What? You go out there and tell them if I see a cigarette I expell the man smokin' it. You tell 'em I'm comin' and Admin's comin' with me, ya hear Admin's comin' with me!

Sean: Senior men won volleyball provincials this year.

Joel: Touch Of Class day was fun.

Sean: Touch Of Class day, I thought they said cut your class day.

Joel: Despite many troubles we finally made it.

Ian: Through bomb threats and power outages we persevered despite the fact that we lost school days because of them.

[Sean & Joel high five]

Sean: TVT;s and Tri-Prov's kept a lot of us busy.

Joel: Cheering modestly for the home team.

Sean & Ian: AINLAYYYYYYYYYY!

Ian: Here's our final tribute to the class that leaves with John Elway, Michael Jordan, and Wayne Gretzky...A day in the Life of Ainlay.

[Lights out, play movie]

Joel: Ahh memories...[wipe tear] remember have a great and safe grad.

Ian: Cause friends don't let friends drive drunk.

Sean: And if you drink and drive, you're a bloody idiot.

Joel: Only you can prevent forest fires

Ian: An apple a day keeps the doctor away

Sean: Boys there's only one thing you can do at a time like this...

All: STRUT!!!

[Stayin' Alive comes on, put on sunglasses, flip up collars, and strut off stage]

The 1998 - 1999 Titan Tradition Staff

Well, another year has passed quickly before our eyes. Throughout the previous pages you could see a vignette of world events which have had some impact on our lives. Throughout the book, I hope that the dedicated yearbook staff have helped to capture some of the memories that make Harry Ainlay the great school that it is. Whether you're in the classroom, on the gymnasium floor, on the outdoor tracks, travelling with a school tour, or involved in one of the many clubs, writers, photographers and layout artists have been there to capture the event.

This year was especially memorable in that we offered credits to students who, on a continual basis, completed work to make this fantastic book. Although there were over 30 students who participated, some stand out as having dedicated countless hours to the project.

First, of course, mention has to be made of our editor, Sarah Lai. Not only did Sarah complete exceptional layouts, integrating digital photographs and type, she also proved to be a real leader in assigning and providing support for others who wished to work on the yearbook. This leadership resulted in more students actively completing work. Thanks Sarah!

Derek Yip also worked above and beyond in always being there when work had to be done. He was always the one to get the job done. Monika Jaworska was a pillar of strength with photography. If an event took place, Monika was there with her camera to capture the great moments. She also purchased her own camera complete with flash and zoom lenses. Sports, graduation, awards night, and clubs are but a few areas where Monika helped out. Nigel Lavers was another big helper. He was adept at taking pictures, developing film, making enlargements and doing page layout. Credit has to be given to Maureen Eng as well. Even with her busy schedule, she spent countless hours helping with photography and developing fantastic layouts. Fong Chua again surfaced, not only in photography, but in desktop publishing. On his own initiative, he could always be found helping others who needed a little extra help. Tara Ferris arrived in the second semester, and with a little initial help from Mel Thompson, quickly became a real help with photography. After a few shooting assignments, her work reflected real skill and she could be called upon to shoot events that were happening.

Some staff are very worthy of mention. Ms. Jewell was a big help teaching all the students how to work with the PageMaker software for doing page layouts. She also had students type all the grad quotes, while Ms. Deptuck spent countless hours proofing them. Mr. Agrell Smith again provided all the great photos for the Drama pages. Students from the ComTech 3 level even created great page layouts for us. Thanks for all the help!

I hope you enjoy the cold winter scene of Harry Ainlay High School. The picture was taken in early February on one of those perfect winter mornings. On a hot summer day, read this page and you will keep cool!

It has been a pleasure working with Ainlay students this year in bringing together another Titan Tradition yearbook.
